

Ken Bond

Ken is the Director of HTA and External Relationships at Institute of Health Economics, Alberta, Canada where he oversees the strategic and operational development of IHE's evidence synthesis program and IHE's relationships with the Ministry of Health and Alberta Health Services. Prior to joining IHE, Ken was Director, Patient Engagement and International Affairs at CADTH. Ken has held positions as a Research Associate at the Institute of Health Economics (IHE) and a researcher and project coordinator at the University of Alberta Evidence-based Practice Center (ARCHE), both located in Edmonton, Alberta. Ken is an active member of the international HTA community, and serves as a co-chair of the HTAi Interest Group on Ethical Issues in HTA and as a Deputy Editor for the International Journal for Technology Assessment in Health Care.